International Finance Corporation (IFC)

Dear Sir or Madam,

Applied economist and modeling analyst at the Directorate of Economic and Social Planning of the Ministry of Planning and Extern Cooperation, I would like to send you my application for the post of operations analyst at the International Finance Corporation based in Haiti.

After my baccalaureate in 2010, I was admitted to the Center for Planning and Applied Economics Techniques. A university center under the supervision of the said ministry, it is responsible for the training of young executives for the public administration, the banking sector and the private sector in matters of applied economy, planning and statistics. In 2014, after four years of study, I successfully completed all the courses according to the requirements set by the scientific council of the Center.

This rigorous training in applied economics gave me a solid foundation in statistics, economics and computer science. Which has developed in me, a capacity for understanding phenomena related to the completeness of the real world. And I learned that information literacy helps streamline decision-making. In my work environment, I was able to strengthen my capabilities in terms of basic data analytics, statistics and modeling. My role is very diverse. I periodically monitor the various macroeconomic aggregates. I participate in the work of setting up the budget together with the Ministry of Economy and Finance. In addition, in the context of strengthening management and Modeling capacities, I work under the supervision of an European Union expert. We have worked together to set up an impact policy simulation model called: "Information and Development Planning Model". This model is called upon to serve the country in terms of good governance. We finished the work preliminary estimates.

Having said that, with my analytical and programming skills and experiences, I believe that I am capable of fulfilling the role of Operations Analyst for the IFC Country Office in Haiti (CLAHT). I would like to make my contribution to the development projects led by the institution. I express myself clearly and intelligibly in French and English. In addition, I have extensive knowledge of Microsoft Office, R, Python and JavaScript. I fully understand relational databases management system (RDMS) such as PostgreSQL and MySQL. And I know how to operate non-relational databases management system (NRDMS) like MongoDB.

I love working in a friendly work environment with dynamic colleagues. I take great pleasure in working on difficult projects but also participating in the decision-making processes. Finally, although this experience was occasional, I enjoyed working with foreign colleagues with diverse backgrounds. I would like to find myself again in such a rewarding and motivating environment.

While requesting your attention to my application, please accept, Madam, Sir, the expression of my respectful consideration.
